Trestle / disassembled pieces // solid oak

DESCRIPTION

ILAI Architects & GregoryClan Carpenters collaboratively developed the furniture range MT04±. It is defined by both its design and great craftsmanship.

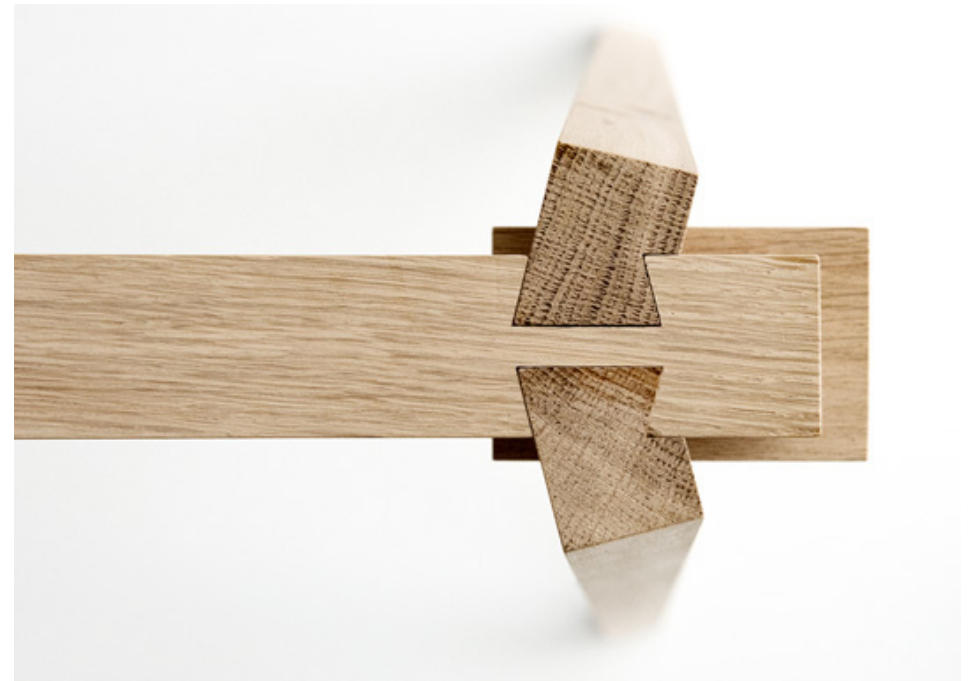

The range is comprised of a trio of pieces: a table, a bench and trestles. All the pieces share the same language and an execution that is extremely sturdy, as well as functional.

By pulling out one bespoke dovetail joint, the legs of all the furniture in the range can be dismantled into their individual components. This allows for a compact size for transportation and very convenient handling.

The furniture range MT04± is an ode to the modern carpentry craft and the beauty of the material itself.
